Our use of cookies

We may collect information when you visit the Website, using cookies. The cookies allow us to identify your computer and find out details about your last visit. This enables you to stay logged in (if applicable), and also helps us work out how many new visitors we get each month. They contain information about the use of your computer but they don't store personal information about you (such as your name for example).

We also use Google Analytics cookies. These can tell us a little about the overall demographics of our visitors but do not identify anyone individually, providing only anonymous statistical data. This data helps us to focus on improving your experience of our website.
